

Special Projects Internship

Rural Neighborhoods also seeks resourceful, innovative individuals who may wish to undertake a special project that contributes to our mission and furthers your academic interest. We would like to hear about your interest. From mural projects to documentary photography, historic research to oral history, housing design to pro forma real number-crunching. There are meaningful roles to fit nearly any academic pursuit. From creative souls to business majors to geeks, write us at giving@ruralneighborhoods.org.
